Expertise

Technical Independent Verification & Validation

Ms. De la Rosa, a director with PCG Technology Consulting (PCG TC), has more than 16 years of experience in information technology (IT) with an emphasis in Project Management, Systems Integration, and Independent Verification and Validation (IV&V). Since joining the firm in 2006, Ms. De la Rosa's focus has been on the IV&V oversight of large State of California engagements that span multiple projects and agencies. Her skills include technical leadership, project management, quality assurance, application testing and training, system requirements analysis, and strategic planning. She is an accomplished Project Manager whose recent and past success provides clients and projects with the expertise needed for success.

Ms. De la Rosa's breadth of experience with IV&V includes many years working with the California Employment Development Department (EDD), where a portfolio of projects were combined into one contract to gain efficiencies of scale and scope, allowing for a consistent implementation of IV&V services. This interdependence with multiple projects allowed for the IV&V activities to focus on a linear view as opposed to separate uncoordinated views of each project.

Ms. De la Rosa is currently the IV&V Project Manager overseeing the management and technical activities for four EDD projects with four separate design, development, and implementation schedules and tasks. In addition to this oversight role, Ms. De la Rosa is the IV&V Project Lead on one of the four projects and is responsible for the overall delivery of IV&V services for all of the EDD. She is responsible for planning all IV&V activities throughout the acquisition, design, testing, and deployment phases. Ms. De la Rosa also manages the IV&V tasks and deliverables associated with requirement evaluation and requirement tracking during the project and serves as the focal point for coordinating, standardizing, and disseminating all IV&V findings and recommendations.
